

College Students and Credit

SHARE THIS

- DOWNLOAD TO PDF

SPONSORED BY

College life can be expensive, and for many freshmen the first time they are responsible for their own finances. Students should develop responsible credit card and bill paying habits early on, to avoid trouble later.

Spokespersons: Sarina Marshall, College Administrator, University of Maryland; Linda Goladner, National Consumers League; James Godfrey, Consumer Credit Counseling Service

Back to top